

Cheneta.in

Of those ideas one innovative idea came from rural weavers family. They want to sell their hand weaved sarees, dhotis online so that they gets good income. Earlier those weavers has to sell those products to brokers at very cheap prices. These brokers formed as a syndicate and literally created a monopoly in this business. These brokers in turn used to sell the products at high prices to end consumers. This lead to loss to weaver families and high price to consumers. With their new proposed application, Its win-win for both consumers and economically weak weaver families. The newly developed app <http://www.cheneta.in> will host those weavers products, so that consumers can purchase at an affordable price. The Department of Computer Science once again encouraged the students in transforming their idea in to reality by funding their domain name and hosting space purchase in cloud environment. We also developed application for their requirements.
